Early Bird Registration for PolicyLab's Forum Ends Soon

Date:

Tuesday, August 14, 2018

On October 22, PolicyLab is hosting a 10th anniversary convening of regional and national leaders in children's health policy and practice. Join policymakers, advocates and researchers for a day of presentations and discussion on topics such as innovative care delivery models, cross-system collaboration to improve behavioral health outcomes and hot child health policy topics in Washington, D.C. Registration is filling up quickly and our early bird pricing ends on September 9, so make sure to register today!

More information and registration can be found here.
