Lindsay Capozzi is the operations manager at PolicyLab at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP). In this role, Ms. Capozzi works to advance the mission of the center by supporting the execution of its strategic plan, enhancing effectiveness of center operations, and leading internal communications. Additionally, she oversees the development of external dissemination strategies for PolicyLab's pilot grant-funded projects; executes the logistics and operations of PolicyLab's Morning Speaker Series; manages PolicyLab's website; and oversees the logistics of the Academic General Pediatrics (AGP) fellowship at CHOP.

Prior to joining PolicyLab, Ms. Capozzi held various internship positions including a long-term public affairs internship in New York at Mather Hospital, an affiliate of Northwell Health. Ms. Capozzi attended Penn State University and received her BA in public relations with minors in psychology and international studies.
