Rebecka Rosenquist (she/her) is the deputy director of policy & strategy at PolicyLab at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP). In this role, Ms. Rosenquist is responsible for the policy and communications work of the center, overseeing the center's policy agenda and communications strategies, and elevating PolicyLab's research and profile among key external stakeholders. Additionally, Ms. Rosenquist leads partnership with CHOP Government Affairs to share PolicyLab's work with local, state and federal policymakers. She previously served as PolicyLab's Health Policy Director.

- At PolicyLab, we seek to break out of the traditional academic research model to actively engage with community, advocacy, and policy partners and stakeholders on pressing issues faced by families locally, and across the state and country.

Ms. Rosenquist has extensive experience working in health policy, advocacy, and related work. Prior to joining CHOP, she was the director of state engagement for Shatterproof ATLAS, a quality measurement system for addiction treatment programs, where she led Shatterproof's partnerships with state agencies and stakeholders in ATLAS pilot states.

Prior to that, Ms. Rosenquist was the associate director for health policy at the Leonard Davis Institute of Health Economics at the University of Pennsylvania (Penn LDI). She has also worked for Action for Global Health, a cross-European coalition of non-profits funded by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, and the Thomson Reuters Foundation, both in London, UK. She started her career in state and local politics, working for the political action committee EMILY's List.

Ms. Rosenquist is a graduate of the College Scholars Program at Cornell University and received her master's degree in global politics from the London School of Economics & Political Science. She lives in Narberth with her husband and two children.
