On May 9-10, 2022, we convened children's health leaders from the Philadelphia region and beyond for PolicyLab Forum 2022, hosted in partnership with AcademyHealth, under the theme "Bridging New Partnerships, Creating Change." Alongside nearly 250 attendees, panelists discussed multiple topics impacting children and families today, including the youth behavioral health crisis, policies to support caregiver health and well-being, underinsurance among children and families, and more.

If you weren't able to join us, we invite you to check out the recap video below as well as a new blog post for a closer look at PolicyLab Forum 2022.
