Children's Hospital of Philadelphia
PolicyLab

Editors' Note: Third Annual Report Regarding JAACAP's Antiracist Journey

Visit Article

In 2020, we wrote to you of our dedication and vision for JAACAP "to be antiracist at every level." Over the last 3 years, we have pursued initiatives "to reshape the Journal to pursue this vision." In this article, we provide an update on these goals and initiatives. With the launching of our new open access journal, JAACAP Open, in late 2022, we now extend these initiatives to both scientific journals in the JAACAP family and aspire to be a leader among mental health journals in our intentional pursuit of antiracist policies and practices.

Journal:

Journal of the American Academy of Child & Adolescent Psychiatry
Authors: Wanjik? F.M. Njoroge