

Study Finds More Child Abuse in Homes of Returning Vets

This article describes a PolicyLab study that found babies and toddlers of soldiers returning from deployment face heightened risk of abuse in the six months after the parent's return home.

Source:

Military Times

Visit Link