Children's Hospital of Philadelphia
PolicyLab

High blood pressure is vastly underdiagnosed in children, new study says

A new study from PolicyLab's Dr. Alex Fiks found a widespread underdiagnosis of hypertension and prehypertension by pediatricians in children ages 3 to 18.

Source:

Philadelphia Inquirer

Visit Link