Social Media Toolkit - Keeping Kids Covered in the Changing Health Care Landscape

Download Material

PolicyLab's new study publishd in Health Affairs comes at an important time: financing for CHIP is scheduled to end in 2017 unless Congress reappropriates funding. PolicyLab is committed to contributing research highlighting the importance of CHIP and Medicaid for children and families in the U.S. to the conversations Congress will inevitably have in the first few months of the new year. To that end, we've developed some materials that we hope can help you promote the findings of this research to your networks or for use in any CHIP advocacy you engage in. This social media toolkit contains hashtags, suggested tweets and infographics that you can use to disseminate this message to your social networks.

Related Content

- Quality of Health Insurance Coverage and Access to Care for Children in Low-Income Families
  Article
  Nov 2015
- Low-Income Working Families With Employer-Sponsored Insurance Turn to Public Insurance For Their Children
  Article
  Dec 2016