Children's Hospital of Philadelphia
PolicyLab

PolicyLab, along with City and School District partners, releases report on students involved with DHS

Date:

Tuesday, June 10, 2014

On June 10, PolicyLab released a report, Supporting the Needs of Students Involved with the Child Welfare and Juvenile Justice System in the School District of Philadelphia, at a press conference in partnership with the City, School District of Philadelphia, Department of Human Services (DHS), Philadelphia School Reform Commission, and Mayor's Office of Education.

You can read the full report here and a 1-page summary here

For media coverage, click below:

- Official City Press Release: City of Philadelphia, School District and PolicyLab at CHOP Release Report on the Educational Outcomes of Youth Involved with DHS
- The Philadelphia Inquirer (front page): 1 in 5 city H.S. students involved with justice or DHS systems
- The Philadelphia Public School Notebook: City, District move to improve services for students involved with child welfare
- WHYY/Newsworks: 17 percent of Philly public school kids involved in child welfare, juvenile justice systems

David Rubin
MD, MSCE

Co-founder

David Rubin
MD, MSCE
Email: Rubin@chop.edu