

Child Abuse Cases in Army Families May Be Under-Reported

Date:

Wednesday, Dec 14, 2016

A new PolicyLab study found that one in five U.S. Army soldiers' children who received a medical diagnosis of child abuse or neglect had a corresponding report substantiated by the U.S. Army Family Advocacy Program.

Source:

U.S. News and World Report Visit Link